DECISION AWARDING DAMAGES¹

Vowell, Chief Special Master:

On October 8, 2014, Andrea Thompson filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² [the “Vaccine Act” or “Program”]. Petitioner alleged that she suffered injuries including neuropathy and adhesive capsulitis (frozen shoulder) which were caused by the Hepatitis B vaccination she received on January 12, 2012. Petition at 1. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On February 23, 2015, I issued a ruling on entitlement, finding petitioner entitled to compensation for her shoulder injury related to vaccine administration [“SIRVA”].³ On

² National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3755. Hereinafter, for ease of citation, all “§” references to the Vaccine Act will be to the pertinent subparagraph of 42 U.S.C. § 300aa (2006).

³ Respondent conceded that petitioner was entitled to compensation for her SIRVA but did not concede that the Hepatitis B vaccine caused neuropathy, maintaining “that the evidence is insufficient to establish that the Hep B vaccine caused a neurologic injury, such as neuropathy with ongoing denervation, as alleged in the petition.” Respondent’s Rule 4(c) Report, filed Feb. 18, 2015, at 1-2 & 2 n.1. Petitioner’s counsel confirmed by email to the OSM staff attorney managing this case that he had discussed the March 13, 2015, respondent filed a proffer on award of compensation ["Proffer"] indicating petitioner should be awarded $75,240.00 "represent[ing] all elements of compensation to which petitioner would be entitled." Proffer at 1. According to respondent's Proffer, petitioner agrees to this proposed amount. Id. at 1-2. Petitioner's counsel also confirmed by email communication to the OSM staff attorney managing the case that petitioner agrees to the amount proposed in the Proffer.

Pursuant to the terms stated in the attached Proffer, I award petitioner a lump sum payment of $75,240.00 in the form of a check payable to petitioner, Andrea Thompson. This amount represents compensation for all damages that would be available under § 300aa-15(a).

The clerk of the court is directed to enter judgment in accordance with this decision.⁴

matter with respondent's counsel and petitioner had no objection to a ruling based on respondent's concession as described in the Rule 4(c) report. See Ruling on Entitlement, issued Feb. 23, 2015, at 2 n.3. Thus, I issued my ruling on that basis.

⁴ Pursuant to Vaccine Rule 11(a), entry of judgment can be expedited by each party filing a notice renouncing the right to seek review.
