RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

Dorsey, Chief Special Master:

On October 10, 2017, Kathleen Mosley (“petitioner”) filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.,² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she suffered Guillain-Barré Syndrome (“GBS”) as a result of an influenza (“flu”) vaccine she received on October 10, 2015. Petition at 1. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On August 28, 2018, respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent’s Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, respondent concludes that “petitioner suffered the Table injury of GBS following a flu vaccine within the Table time period, and there is not a preponderance of the evidence that petitioner's GBS was due to a factor unrelated to the vaccination." Id. at 4-5. Respondent further agrees that the "claim also meets the statutory severity requirements because petitioner experienced sequelae of her GBS for more than six months" and has therefore "satisfied all legal prerequisites for compensation under the Act." Id. at 5.

In view of respondent's position and the evidence of record, the undersigned finds that petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
